

Employer Health Claims Collaborative

Putting your data to work for you.

Today's complex commercial health care market leaves many self-funded employers and purchasers in the dark about the health claims data needed to make important decisions about their employees' care.

The Employer Health Claims Collaborative brings clarity to employers, equipping them with actionable insights that help design effective and sustainable benefits for both employees and employers. Brought to you by the National Alliance of Healthcare Purchaser Coalitions and the Health Care Cost Institute, the Collaborative will serve as a definitive, employer-driven data resource to help employees, policymakers and researchers drive a fairer market.

Powered by employers, for employers, the Collaborative is:

Trusted

Governed by mission-driven nonprofits

Transparent

Offers employers a clear view into cost drivers, care quality, disease burden, outcomes and benefit performance

Secure

Guided by strict protections, including HIPAA compliance and de-identification protocols

Actionable

Delivers advanced analytic insights in digestible formats for employers and policymakers

Together, we can build a more transparent, affordable and healthier marketplace.

Learn how you can put your data to work for you: employerclaims.org